The Indian Garden Company specialises in exquisite, hand-crafted decorative accessories for the garden.

These decorative items are hand-crafted by skilled artisans, whose families have been traditionally making these products for centuries. We've found the best craftsmen and worked closely with them, adapting the designs to make them practical for western climates and tastes.

In the process we provide business opportunities to the artisans in these developing economies. Our aim is to add real value to handmade products, through quality in design and construction. We are committed to sustainable development and we will pay a premium for local materials, encouraging the complete processing of the artefacts in the community.

Each hand-crafted product is unique. We hope you enjoy them as much as we do and appreciate the history, skills and fascinating stories behind each piece.
